CONTAGIOUS DISEASES ARE PREVALENT ALL OVER

I am a native of England, and while I was in that country I contracted a terrible blood poison, and for two years was under treatment as an out-door patient at Not-tingham Hospital, England, but was not cured. I suffered the most agonizing patins in my bones, and was covered with sores all over my body and limbs. I had vertigo and deafness, with partial loss of sight, severe pains in my head and eyes, etc., which nearly ran me craxy. I lost all hope in that country and sailed for America, and was treated at Rocsevell. In this city, as well as by a prominent physician in New York having no connection with the hospitals. I saw the advertisement of swift's Specific, and I determined to give it a trial as a last resort. I had given up all hope of being cured, as I had gone through the hands of the best medical men in Nottingham and New York. I took six bottles of S.S.F., and I can say, with great joy, that sound and well as I ever was in mylife.

The following committee on resolu-tions was appointed: Colenel Thomas J. Evans, Judges E. H. Fitzhugh, A. L. Holladay, George L. Christian, E. C. Minor, Edmund Waddill, Messrs. R. H. Cardwell, E. Y. Cannon, Tazewell Ellett, Charles U. Williams, George Bryan, and Conway R. Sands.

This committee, through its chair-man, Colonel Evans, reported a pream-ble and resolutions, which were unani-mously adopted, justly eulogistic of the deceased as a friend and a member of the bar, and paying a deservedly high tribute to his character.

Elequent tributes were paid to the memory of the deceased by Colonel Evans, Colonel Sherwin McRae, Hon. John S. Wise, General George W. Richardson, Messrs, George Bryan, J. Randolph Tucker, Jr., and others. Colonel Evans read a list of nearly one hundred members of the profession who have died since Colonel Young came to the bar; and Colonel McRae alluded to the fact that he had introduced the deceased at the bar fifty years ago.

A copy of the resolutions adopted was ordered to be sent to each of the courts in the city and to the family of the deceased.

THE FUNERAL. The funeral of Colonel Young took place yesterday afternoon at his home, West Brook, in Henrico county. There was a large attendance of his county and city friends. SENT ON FOR MURDER

NESSLAGE CHARGED WITH KICKING AND KILLING SILAS PARKER. Finney Sent on for Cruelty to Animals and Deane for Attempting to Incite a Riot, &c.

The Police Court was in session yes terday until a quarter past 2 o'clock, and on the decket were several cases which excited considerable interest and drew a large crowd. The most impor-tant case, and one of the first called, was that of Ernest B. Nesslage, charged with assaulting, beating, kicking, and wounding Silas Parker, with intent to kill. Parker was a colored man, and drove a butcher-wagon for Mr. Charles

On Monday the 6th instant, while driving from Seventh street into Broad, Parker came near having a collision with a wagon of the Bergner & Engel Brewing Company driven by Nesslage, who is a white man. Nesslage accused Parker of reckless driving; both got down from their wagon and became very abusive in their language. Blows were struck and Nesslage gave Parker a kick. They were soon separated. Parker was carried to his home, near the corner of Gilmer and Williams streets, and Nesslage was taken before the Police Court, where his case was continued until last Saturday.

Parker was thought to be in a fair way to recover until last Friday night, when he began to sink. At 4 A. M. Satur-day he died. The day that Parker died a post-mortem was made and an inquest held. Dr. Bosher, who made the examination, found the mark of a blow on the lower part of the abdomen, and thought death was caused by peritonitis. The verdict of the Coroner's jury was that Parker came to his death from the effects of injuries inflicted on the 6th of September by Ernest - (leaving the last name blank because they did not know whether the accused was named Nesslage, Nessler, or Nes-

Dr. Dismond (colored), a colored youth named William Hope, Ben. Jones (colored), and Mr. Fritz. Lauterbach were introduced and examined as witnesses for the prosecution. Their evidence was the same as given before the Coroner's jury, the substance of which has been already published in the Dispatch, and which does not differ materially from the history of the case given above. The counsel for the defence submitted the case without introducing any witnesses. The accused was sent on to the grand jury and bail refused. CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

E. Finney (colored), a member of the Petersburg military company which came over on Monday as escort to the colored military from Boston, was charged with obstructing a street-car and striking and cruelly beating with a gun a horse attached to said car-the property of the City Railway Company. Mr. H. O. Allen, the driver, said that Monday evening he overtook the colored military on Main street between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh, and that he drove slowly after them. At the corner of Twenty-third street the Peville, Lunenburg county; W. S. corner of Twenty-third street the Petersburg; W. B. Isaacs, Jr., A. Oppenheimer, W. H. Glazebrook, R. B. Chafbeimer, R. G. He then got on a rear car and followed the military up-town, keeping his eye on the man who had struck the horse. At the corner of Twelfth and Main streets the prisoner struck the street-car horse another powerful blow over the head. When the military had gotten up-town the witnes went to the commanding officer and stated what had occurred, and asked the name of the man who had struck the The officer started to tell him, horse. when the whole company cried out "Don't give his name." Being determined to have the man arrested, he followed the military until they reached the Governor's Mansion, when he left, and, after reporting the matter to Superintendent Selden, went to the station-house and swore out a warrant for the arrest of the prisoner.

Two other witnesses corroborated the statement made by Mr. Allen; only they said that when the horse was struck the second time it was near Fourteenth instead of Twelfth street. Hope Clarke, who was marching the same file with the accused all the way up Main street, did not see the horse struck, though he could not swear that it was not. The accused utterly denied having officer Shinberger testified as to the manner of the arrest, and said that the accused offered no resistance when arrested.

Finney was sent on to the grand jury and allowed bail in the sum of $100. This offence comes under the State aw, and is punishable with a fine not exceeding $50. INCITING A RIOT. William W. A gentleman from Hanover, who came into the city Sunday night, said that directly after getting here he inquired down on Seventeenth street where he could get a half pint of whiskey; that a colored man replied, "Give me the bottle and money and I whiskey; that a colored man replied, official organ, and also headquarters for their respective officers and members, will get it for you." BLAINE, JR. W. RUNAWAY MATCH. The Bride Conxed a Dispensatio from Archbishop Corrigan—fwo Astonished Families.

[New York Sun.]

A week ago yesterday James G. Blaine, Jr., youngest son of the Hon. James G. Blaine, of Maine, was married at St. Leo's rectory by the Rev. Thomas J. Ducey to Marie, daughter of Colonel Richard Nevins, of Columbus, O. The marriage was private, only the necessary witnesses being present, and the parents of the young people knew nothing about it. Young Mr. Blaine is still a student at Wesleyan University, and is captain o the college foot-ball team, which played here twice last fall. This fall he met Miss Nevins in Augusta, where she was visiting her eldest brother, who is settled in Maine. On Friday, September 3d, the Nevinses came to this city from Bar Harbor, and took rooms at the New York Hotel. Mr. Blaine followed within a few hours, and after procuring a dispensation from Archbishop Corrigan, made necessary be-cause Miss Nevins is a Catholic, they were married on September 6th, three days after they had reached the city. They left the city for Boston immediately after the ceremony. General Martin T. McMahon, counsel for Colonel Nevins, said last evening that the report that the Nevins and Blaine families were angry at the marriage was false. "The young people are very young," said the General, "and their marriage has surprised every one. Whatever feeling there is, is of surprise, mingled, perhaps, with a little temporary disgust at their disregard or, perhaps, evasion of the advice their elders would have given them. There is no anger in either family against them. Mr. Walker Blaine, the groom's eldest brother, was coming to this city on business last week, and made it a point to see his new sister-in-law. She is a very beau-tiful girl, really beautiful, and I don't think that he disapproved of his brother's choice. "The young people fell in love and arranged matters before they

this city," continued the General.
"They knew that if they asked their parents' advice they would be told that they were too young, and must wait awhile. But they also knew they didn't want to wait; so they took matters into their own hands. On Saturday the 4th they called on Father Ducey, of St. Leo's. He refused to marry them, and said they must get a dispensation from Archbishop Corrigan. They asked him to get it for them, and he told them to come sgain on Monday. On Monday, when they came again, Father Ducey told them he had seen the Archbishop, who was unwilling to grant the dispensation, as he thought they were too young. The two young people prevailed on Father Ducey to go up to the Archbishop's residence with them. There Miss Nevins told the Archbishop that she was a Catholic, and desired to be married in her own church, but that if he would not give her a dispensation, she would go elsewhere. The Archbishop laughed. You are a true woman,' he said, and he gave them the dispensation. So they were married in the afternoon. "Then they went on to Boston, and the next day young Mrs. Blaine came back here to break the news to her parents and young Blaine went on to Bar Harbor to tell his family. They have not seen one another since. Meantime Mr. Walker Blaine has been here, as I said, and James G. Blaine, Jr., will come on here to-morrow morning and rejoin his wife. Both families have got over the temporary displeasure the marriage caused." "General," said the Sun reporter, Dr. McDonnell, Archbishop Corrigan's private secretary, who is acting as chancellor of the archdiocese, tells me he knows of no dispensation having been issued.' "The Archbishop granted one personally," answered General McMahon and the documentary dispensation can be filed in the chancery later. There is no doubt that the dispensation was granted. Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., is nine teen years old. She was educated at the Convent of the Sacred Heart, at Cincinnati, and has been a leader among the young women in Washington soci ty. Her mother and herself are the only Roman Catholics of her family. Young Mr. Blaine should be a Metho dist, to judge from the college lected, but one of his sisters is a Catholic, and both his grandparents were con-verted to the Catholic faith late in life.

Young Mrs. Blaine is the granddaughter of the late Samuel Medary. editor of the Ohio Statesman, and Democratic Governor of the Territories of Minnesota and Kansas. Colonel Nevins succeeded Mr. Medary as editor of the Statesman, was for a time Pab-lic Printer at Washington, and is a prominent Democrat. Both Colonel Nevins and Father

Ducey, of St. Leo's, were out of the city last evening. Archbishop Corrigan was also away from home. No record of the marriage had been made at the Bureau of Vital Statistics up to the time of closing yester Ten days is the time allowed

The twenty-third triesmial concluses Grand Encampement Knights Templess of the United States, will be held in St. Louis, commencing Sunday, September 19th, with religious exercises in the Exposition Music Hall, and continue through the following week. Arresponents have been made for the accommodation of 20,000 Knights and as many more of the members of their families and friends. The Knights Templers of more of the members of their families and friends. The Knights Templare of Missouri have subscribed $40,000 for general entertainment. Each of the commanderies in that city will spand from $5,000 to $10,000 more. On Tuesday there will be a grand parade, and it is expected that there will be 20,000 Templars in line. Wednesday there will be a drill at the fair-grounds, to be followed in the afterneon by a band of 2,000 pieces, under the direction of P. S. Gilmore, supplemented by an anvil chorus of fifty men and a battery of artillery, which will render national airs. During the entire Conclave week there will be excursions and entertainments for the amusement of the visitors. While the Templars of this jurisdiction are all desirous of attending the encampment, only Washington, No. 1, has decided to go as a body. There will be, however, numbers units with them and attend the conclave. This organization expects to satrt out eighty strong,

They will remain in that city until midnight of the 23d, and, for the posterial industrial naafter the necturnal industrial pa-rade is over, leave for Chicago, where they will stay until Satur-day afternoon, and reach home Sunday night. The rates for the trip are astonishingly low. The cost to St. Louis and back, including sleeper, is $15 where the direct trip is taken, and for laying over at Chicago $5 extra. These figures are so reasonable as to induce many to take advantage of them, and knowing the good time awaiting their arrival at St. Louis is an additional reason urging the taking of the trip. It is pretty safe to say that, with the railroad company's low fare and other attractions promised, an enjoya-ble time is in store for the Templar pilgrims.
